Inspired by delectable trademark hues — 70's browns and harvest gold of Magnum — Monisha Jaising's Luxe Resort 2016 collection at Lakmé Fashion Week Summer/Resort 2016 was something that every pleasure seeker would want to add to her menu of ensembles.

The show comprised decadent creations that took the audience on a visual and tactile plane. Each of the ensembles personifies the brand's signature elements — from rich Belgian chocolate brown drapes that swirled with pristine vanilla, to the distinctive crack that carefully contours the silhouettes alongside glistening and bold golden hues. Through this collection, Monisha aimed to give women the power to alter and enhance every day experiences and make time for more personal pleasure.

The showstopper was the stunning Lisa Haydon who brought a vivacious energy to the ramp as she glided down in a heavy duty, all-over textured Rockstar gown, completely hand embroidered with multiple gold metal elements. Monisha's collection was an ultra-stylish Magnum-inspired fashion offering women who aim for timeless sophistication with distinct individual sartorial touches.

Said Monisha, "I'm naturally drawn to luxury and love to push my creativity, so the design process of creating a couture collection was absolutely thrilling. I believe that the Monisha Jaising Label and Magnum share a real commitment to craftsmanship. And with this collection, I wished to create a line that was a perfect homage to the style and fashion of the 70s and inspired by the brand's vibrant colour palette. Something that is sure to tantalise every pleasure seeker."

Added Lisa, "The Monisha Jaising Label and Magnum celebrate the wonderful, unique elements that make women who they are and the collection is proof of that. I have worked with Monisha in the past and as a designer she always goes beyond the norm, introducing styles that will become wardrobe classics while retaining her signature attributes. Inspired by one of the brand's core colours, the dress while being drop dead gorgeous was innovative and made me feel extremely sexy, with its strategic star shape cut-outs that added fun to the couture piece."
